2019 Summer Camp

– Call for Participation –

The Graduate Program for Mechanical Systems Innovation (GMSI), the Global Leader program for Social Design and Management (GSDM) and the World-leading Innovative Graduate Study Program Co-designing Future Society (WINGS CFS) at The University of Tokyo (UTokyo) will hold a Summer Camp. By gathering together PhD students from various countries studying Mechanical Systems Innovation, Social Design Management and related fields, the Camp aims to widen the research perspective of the participants and facilitate international communication by developing international networks among young researchers. We invite PhD students from departments/universities related to GMSI, GSDM and WINGS CFS to join the camp.

Outline of the 2019 Summer Camp

Dates: Friday, August 2 to Monday, August 5, 2019

Place: The University of Tokyo and Shonan Village Center
 Hongo, Bunkyo-ku, Tokyo and Hayama, Kanagawa

Sessions: 1) Technical presentations* and discussion on participants' research topics
 2) Discussion and survey in small teams with presentations by each group

*Further details will be notified to the participants prior to the camp.

Expected participants: Approximately 30 PhD students from the University of Tokyo and 10 from outside Japan are expected to attend the Camp. Professors, researchers, and staff of UTokyo will also attend.

The camp will be conducted entirely in English.

Expenses (Non-UTokyo students):

- 1) The invitee from abroad will be provided a round-trip discounted economy-class air ticket. Arrival in Japan will be on August 1, and departure will be on August 6. Requests for open-jaw tickets or stopover itineraries will not be granted. Support of international airfare by the invitee is very much welcome. If the total number of applicants exceeds the Camp capacity, applicants supporting their own international airfare will be preferentially selected.
- 2) Accommodation and meals will be fully provided while at the Camp venue (from lunch on August 2 through lunch on August 5). We will also arrange transportation to/from the Camp, as well as lodging in Tokyo for the nights of August 1 and 5. The travel cost between Tokyo and Narita or Haneda airport will be reimbursed.

Expenses (UTokyo Students):

Accommodation and meals will be fully provided while at the Camp venue (on August 2 through lunch on August 5).

Qualifications for participation: To be eligible for admission to this Camp, you must

- a) be a Master or PhD student engaged in research in a field related to GMSI, GSDM or WINGS CFS (see <http://gmsi.t.u-tokyo.ac.jp/>, http://gsdm.u-tokyo.ac.jp, <http://cfs.t.u-tokyo.ac.jp/> for the research activities)
- b) be a member of a laboratory, department or organization that has some kind of relations with GMSI, GSDM or WINGS CFS
- c) have a will to attend all the activities during the camp (technical presentations, group discussions, and informal exchanges among participants, etc)
- d) be able to actively participate in discussions in English

Credits (UTokyo students): certificated as 3799-148 Engineering Competency III –Summer Camp- (2 cr.) for GSDM Comprehensive Coursework, Problem solving core (UTAS registration at a later date)

Application for participation to the summer camp: submit via email the application form (attached) together with an abstract of your presentation and your self-introduction (use attached templates).

Application and questions: office@gmsi.t.u-tokyo.ac.jp

Note that we will select participants from the applicants satisfying the above qualifications whilst considering balance among research fields, participating countries, etc.

We look forward to seeing you at this year's Summer Camp!
