2021 Summer Camp

– Call for Participation –

The Graduate Program for Mechanical Systems Innovation (GMSI), the Global Leader program for Social Design and Management (GSDM), the World-leading Innovative Graduate Study Program Co-designing Future Society (WINGS CFS), the Quantum Science and Technology Fellowship Program (Q-STEP) and Designing Future Society Fellowship (DFS Fellowship) at The University of Tokyo (UTokyo) will hold an ONLINE Summer Camp. By gathering together PhD students from various countries studying Mechanical Systems Innovation, Social Design Management and related fields, the Summer Camp aims to widen the research perspective of the participants and facilitate international communication by developing international networks among young researchers. We invite PhD students from departments/universities related to GMSI, GSDM and WINGS CFS to join the camp.
